

Feminist

Intersectional

Activism

in a Dangerous
Time

“What actions can we take to increase our solidarity with each other?”

— Aurora Levins Morales

We can't think of a better focus for our activist conversations right now: whether it's the Women's March, or supporting refugees, or working for racial justice, or Palestinian rights, or decentering whiteness, or standing up to anti-Semitism & White Nationalism.

Penny Rosenwasser will share activist adventures, inspiration, complexities, and queerness – as well as a few readings from her recent book, “Hope into Practice, Jewish Women Choosing Justice Despite Our Fears.”

Thurs,
Feb. 28
6-9pm
Levan
Hall 100

Penny is a life-long heartfelt rabble-rouser. She is a founding board member of Jewish Voice for Peace, former Jewish Caucus Chair of the National Women's Studies Association, and a member of the European American Collaborative for Challenging Whiteness. Penny teaches at City College of San Francisco and is active on the Sanctuary and Racial Justice Committees of Kehilla Synagogue in Oakland, California.